

Editorial Notes

This Asian Health, Science and Technology Reports (AHSTR), ISSN 3027-7167 (Online), Volume 32(1) is the first issue of the AHSTR since changing its name from Naresuan University Journal: Science and Technology. This issue continues to feature compelling articles, including two research articles on the Health Science topic, such as the article titled “Experimental Investigation of Silver Nanoparticles Dose Response for Larvicidal Activity Against Trichellnolosis In vitro” and seven research articles on the Science and Technology topic such as the article titled “Development of a Portable NIR Spectrometer for Detecting Pesticide Residues”.

The AHSTR publishes research and reviews articles in various interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary fields of Health Sciences and Science and Technology. The journal is approved by the Thai-Journal Citation Index: TCI Tier 1 and ASEAN Citation Index. Those who are interested in downloading the articles or publishing their works in the AHSTR can do so through our website at <https://ph03.tci-thaijo.org/index.php/ahstr/Home>.
