

Editorial Notes

New Release: AHSTR Vol. 34, Issue 2 (2026)

We are pleased to announce the publication of the latest edition of Asian Health, Science and Technology Reports (April–June 2026). This issue highlights outstanding multidisciplinary research and review articles that bridge vital gaps between distinct scientific domains, including:

Aviation Occupational Health & Nutritional Science: Health–Conscious Consumption: Vitamin Supplement and Healthy Food Choices Among Generation Y and Z Aviation Professionals

Clinical Dentistry & Data Engineering: Digital Twins in Dentistry: Technological Foundations and Clinical Applications

As a TCI Tier 1 and ASEAN Citation Index (ACI)–approved journal, AHSTR remains steadfastly committed to publishing high–quality, impactful research. We invite researchers, practitioners, and readers to engage with our growing scientific community.

Thank you for your continued support in advancing knowledge and innovation.
